Hi there!

If you are trying to establish a student-run tutoring program at your school and need a little help to get started, you have come to the right place! Inside this packet you will find printable items to help you along the way.

Here is what you find in the set:

Parent Consent Form - you will need to obtain parental consent from any students that receive tutoring services. This form is a Word Document so you can customize names, dates, times and all other details to suit your needs.

Tutoring Teams and Schedules - If you have a lot of tutors, you can organize them into teams. Keep track of which students are on each team and which dates they will volunteer with this helpful sheet. This form is a Word Document so you can customize the dates and names of team members.

Tutoring Partner Information - a table to help you keep track of tutors and the children they will be assisting. This form is a Word Document so you can add student names and any other details.

Tutoring Activity List - an insert for the tutoring binders that reminds tutors what activities they should be doing with their tutees. This form is a Word Document so you can customize activities to suit your needs.

Bring a Book Reminder Note - Remind tutees to bring any necessary materials with this note. Our tutors hand a note to tutees if they forget to bring reading materials to tutoring. This form is a Word Document so you can customize materials to suit your needs. I copy mine on bright paper and stick a few copies into the front pocket of each student's binder for easy access!

Tutoring Binder Cover - Personalize student binders with this cute binder insert! This form is a Powerpoint File so you can add text boxes to change the student name and grade level, along with any additional information. Print onto brightly colored paper and color code students as needed.

You can read more about the student-run tutoring program that I supervise at my school in this blog post. Thanks for downloading the file and best of luck!
